Record Rains Drench Area

Families Stranded In Palo Duro Park

BY LINDA LOVE

Thunderstorms pounded away at the Canyon area last week, returning time and again to raise water levels still higher and do more damage. A record for moisture received during the month of June was set. Total stands now at 12.12 inches for June.

Most serious temporary result of heavy rains was the stranding of 32 cars on the canyon floor at Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Area was completely inaccessible until a helicopter was flown into the camp early Saturday. Tourists were happy to see friendly faces; they wanted more provisions and were anxious to send word of their adventures to the people outside.

A Canyon News reporter made the trip into the canyon by helicopter to talk with campers there. The following is an account of that trip.

Eagerly clutching cameras, an excited crowd of adults, teens and children pushed forward as the helicopter came to a halt before them.

"I sure am glad to see kin-folks!" one woman had cried when a first trip had brought rangers in Saturday to check on the 151 campers stranded in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. It had been three days since most of them had seen an "outsider," and they were ready to talk.

"Boy, when they saw us up above, they were all hands," grinned one ranger.

The helicopter provided by KFDD-TV, Channel 10 of Amarillo, had returned again with television news crew Jerry Taff and Joe Batson, then again about 10:30 a.m. with food supplies (See Families, Page 7)

Dan Cupid Trailing Divorces

Dan Cupid is falling behind in the game of matrimony in Randall County where divorces outnumbered marriages last year.

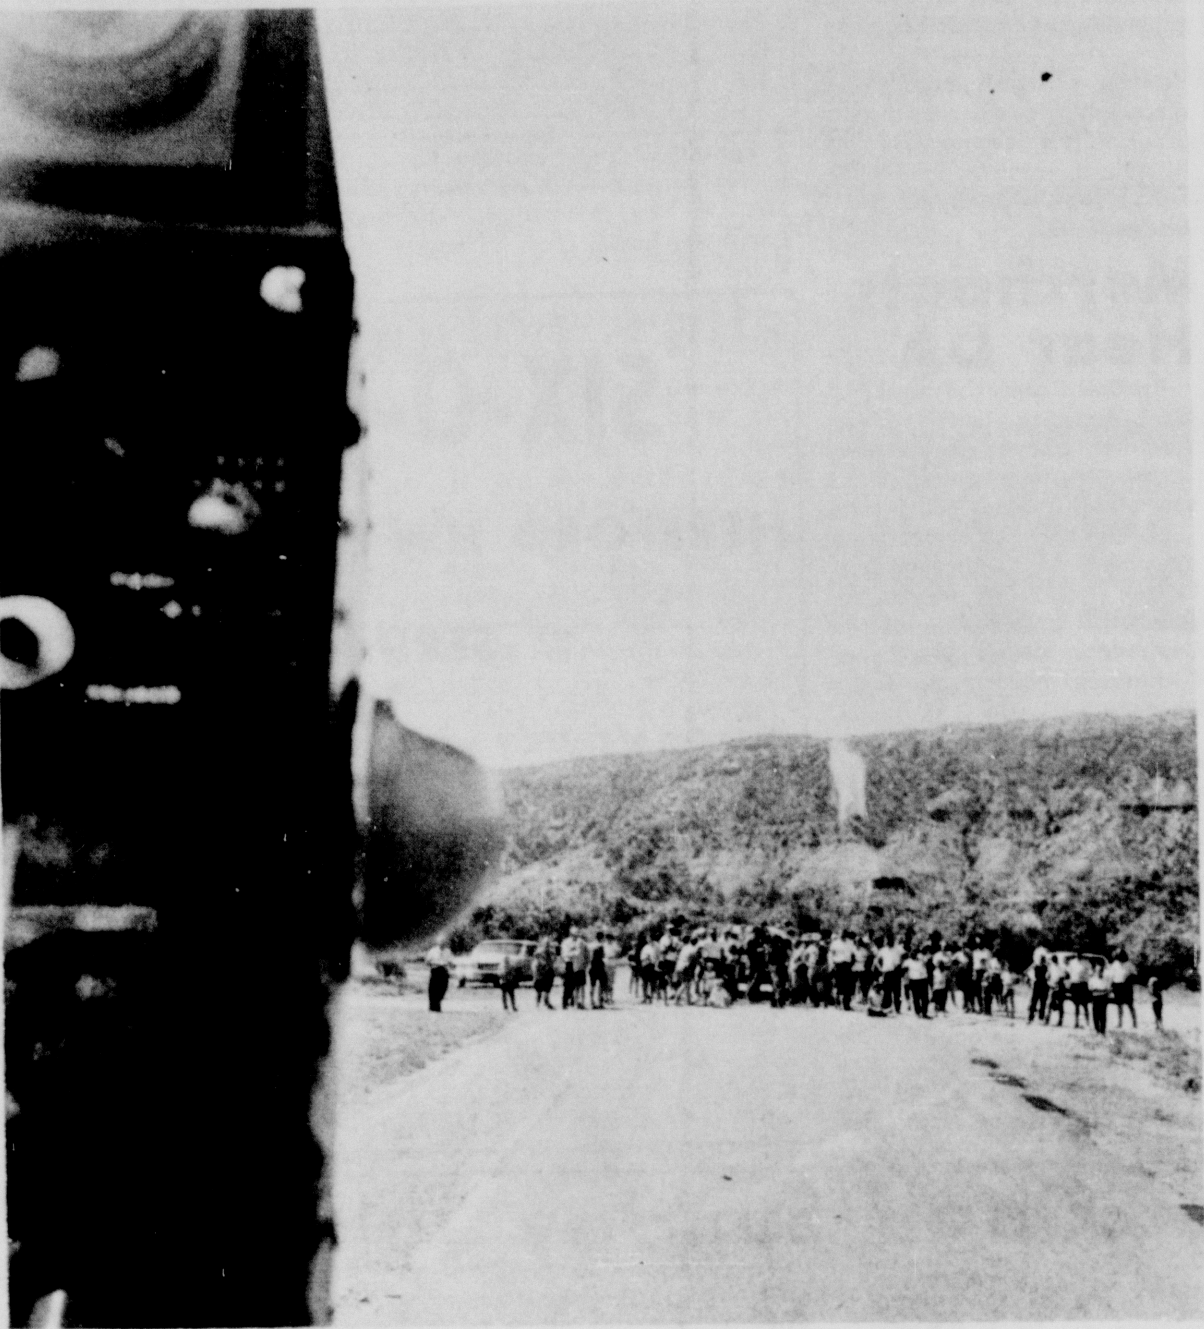

Judge Gene Jordan's 47th District Court in Randall County last year granted 158 divorces while the county clerk's office issued only 143 marriage licenses.

Even the number of divorces actually granted tells only part of the story. Judge Jordan dismissed 75 cases for one reason or another while a total of 259 cases were filed. One divorce petition was denied. The balance presumably still is pending.

Little can be learned by reading the neat petitions filed with District Clerk Mavis Hill.

Mental cruelty rendering the other party "unsupportable to live with" is the usual allegation in a petition.

In the uncontested divorce, these real reasons are referred to only in the vaguest term.

DROPPING in to check on the 31 families stranded in Palo Duro Canyon was the Channel 10 helicopter of Amarillo. Airlifts began early Saturday as the whirlybird brought supplies to the camp, which had been cut off by high water since Thursday. Excited, curious crowds gathered with every landing and departure of the chopper.

Civic Clubs Sponsor Celebration Activities

Canyon will stage its annual Old Settlers Roundup and celebration August 6, and 7.

Plans for the fiesta are currently being made with the Canyon Chamber of Commerce in charge of scheduling events.

A highlight of the two-day celebration will be the old settlers reunion and dinner, which is set for Friday, August 6, in

Fireworks Included In Show

Old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration will become a part of the Pioneer Theatre production "Thundering Sounds of the West" July 3 through July 5.

Fireworks are scheduled among other traditions which prevailed in Independence Day celebrations among the pioneers. The special review will be included in a section of the show devoted regularly to portrayal of Western customs.

the Gold Room of the East Cafeteria on the campus of West Texas State University.

The reunion will be held between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. with dinner being served and a program of interest to guests.

Randall County Sheriff's Pose will be in charge of the annual rodeo which will get underway Friday night of the celebration. Rodeo performances will be staged Friday and Saturday nights with an afternoon performance Saturday.

Plans call for the rodeo to be a junior affair with junior entrants participating.

A parade has been planned by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce but definite arrangements have not been made.

Canyon's Junior Chamber of Commerce is in charge of the barbecue and beard-growing contest again this year.

Jaycees will begin selling barbecue tickets next week with advance sales available at the Village Drive Inn and by calling OLS-3915.

Barbecue tickets are being sold at $1.25 for adult plates and 75 cents for children under 13. Tickets will be sold until serving time August 7 according to a Jaycee spokesman. The barbecue will be prepared and served by the Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes.

"Better start those whiskers now," urge the Canyon Jaycees who must pay a minimum (See Civic, Page 7)

No Damage To Theatre

Some four performances of "Thundering Sounds of the West" were canceled last week due to threatening rain and hail.

According to Mrs. Edith Eckhardt, public relations director of Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, the show was called off after the first act Wednesday night, and all performances were canceled Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

"Equipment in the theatre was not damaged in the hail storm," Mrs. Eckhardt reported this week. "Although the roads behind the stage were somewhat muddy due to the rains."

The theatre, located in Palo Duro Canyon State Park, is above water crossing number one, and was not affected by (See No, Page 7)

News Office Closes Today

The Canyon News office will be closed all day today, Thursday, due to remodeling.

Office will be open all day Friday and Saturday until noon, and will close again Monday for July 4th holiday.

Rains Add Mosquito Problems

Mosquitoes have been a particularly severe problem this year as a result of the unusual amount of moisture received.

City Manager Dewey Bryant urges all citizens to check their houses, yards and alleys and rid them of all possible sources of mosquitoes.

"One empty tin can that will hold a little water is almost as harmful as a whole creek," warned Bryant. "Things like old tires are the worst breeding grounds in the world."

Yards should be kept neat and lawns mowed short, he continued. "If we can control the natural habitat of the mosquito, it will do more good than all the spraying and dusting combined."

Dusting is continuing and will be kept up throughout the summer. Some dusting at night is to be started soon as well. Bryant reports the city has (See Rains, Page 7)

Long May It Wave

(An Editorial)

We can think of no more appropriate Fourth of July editorial than this last and little known verse of The Star Spangled Banner.

"Oh! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that has made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: 'In God is Our Trust.'
And the Star-Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Farmers Fear Late Planting

Record breaking June rainfall of up to 15 inches has delighted Randall County farmers and ranchers, but some of them now feel that too much of a good thing can be worrisome.

Several hard long days work needs to be done right now and the time grows short for doing many of these jobs. Two major chores are begging to be done.

One is to finish the wheat harvest and the other is to plant or replant a large acreage of mostly dryland grain sorghum, according to Randall County agent John Brazzil.

Many fields of irrigated wheat is yet unharvested. Some damage from lodging, from hail, and from weeds and johnson-grass is evident in many fields. A small acreage of dryland wheat remains to be harvested. Here weeds that have formed a canopy over the crop will be a major problem.

The end of the season for planting grain sorghum is near at hand. Many producers believe that after July 4 the time rapidly grows late. Early maturing varieties, which may have a chance to mature before frost, will be selected for planting.

Some damage of soil erosion from heavy rains last week occurred in many newly plowed fields.

Prices for beef cattle and swine are up considerably from a few short months ago. Ranges and pastures have seldom been better for mid-summer. Subsoil moisture which will have a long-lasting beneficial effect even on next year's crop is excellent.

More than 700 irrigation wells in Randall County are taking a much needed long rest. Lake water for supplemental irrigation is plentiful.

Claude Coach Signs At CHS

F. C. Crofford has been hired as head basketball coach at Canyon High School.

Superintendent Huelyn Laycock made the announcement this week.

Crofford, presently head cage mentor at Claude, will move his family to Canyon later this summer.

The coach has been at Claude nine years and has coached five teams to the state basketball tournament.

One of the teams won the state crown, and two placed second in the tourney. One team was third and one fourth.

At Claude, Crofford coached both girls and boys teams during his nine years there.

Before moving to Claude, Crofford taught in Whiteface one year, Pettit one year, and Sunray two years.

He is a graduate of Clarendon High School, and graduated from West Texas State University in

WT Library Gets Grant

Federal funds of $109,029 have been granted West Texas State University for a library addition.

"This is exactly what we asked for under the Educational Facilities Act," said Virgil Henson, comptroller. First application was made Nov. 1 of last year, and approval was given last week.

Total cost of the new addition is $327,089, with state funds already appropriated to complete the financing.

Preliminary plans have been approved by the Board of Regents for State Teachers Colleges. Final plans will be submitted at the regents' September meeting.

Grant will be used completely in construction of the addition, which will extend to the museum, library director Frank Blackburn said.

Requests have also been made under the same act for grants involving the Killgore Research Center, applied science building and library floor of the museum. Application was made with that of the library, but changes made delayed action on the Killgore request. Answer is expected the end of July.

Baseball Edition

Annual baseball edition, featuring pictures and action stories on Canyon's summer ball program will appear in this week's issue of The Canyon News.

Featured in the edition are the Pee Wee, Little League, Babe Ruth, American Legion Falcons and girls softball teams.

Copies of the paper sell at the regular price and additional glossy prints of the pictures may be ordered by contacting the news office.

Groundbreaking For WT Research Center

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Wednesday for the new Killgore Research Center to be built behind the Administration Building of West Texas State University.

Turning the first shovelful of dirt was Clayton Heare of Amarillo, chairman of the WT committee of the board of regents and member of the WTSU Foundation executive board.

Heare dedicated the shovelful "to progress and vision in the Panhandle of Texas," a vision which he hoped would continue forever for the betterment of the people, "making the unknown a part of the known."

Ceremony was opened by President James P. Cornette, who introduced Dr. Emmitt Smith, director of development and research. Smith praised the Killgore Foundation of Amarillo, which provided the original grant of $500,000 and dedicated the center as signifying progress which would be a "living monument to the great Panhandle name."

He introduced Leonard Gunderson of Amarillo as having begun the idea of the research center, and Rep. Hudson Moyer as having sponsored legal action which Smith said is necessary as a firm foundation of progress.

Director of the center will be Dr. Alfred A. Kraus, Jr., who spoke for the faculty, expressing hope the center would prove an important contribution to economic and agricultural development of the Panhandle area.

Kraus said three areas of research would be emphasized strongly due to their close relation to the Panhandle. These were the study of low temperature physics, based on plentiful supplies of helium; chemical research as foundation for work at the developing Amarillo medical complex; and agricultural studies.

Kraus urged that the center's purpose is not repetition of or competition with others' achievements, but accomplishment of things significant in themselves to the people's betterment.

Representing the WTSU Foundation was A. A. Bush, Other members Bill Durham and Chancellor Weymouth were unable to attend the ceremonies. Killgore grant has been supplemented by $64,800 in state appropriations. Construction (See Ground, Page 7)

dent, and Dr. Alfred Kraus, director of the center. The three men are framed by the arm of a huge dirt moving machine which was used to break ground in what Dr. Cornette described as "Panhandle style."

Happy Birthday, USA!

Stars and Stripes are held by Richard Pruett as sons Kip, 3, and Ty, 5, help him get ready for the July 4 celebration of Independence Day.

by Troy Martin
FROM THE CANYON RIM

Two weeks ago Friday the Martin family started off on a two-week swing around the most scenic portions of the Southwest.

We had planned to go through Denver, Laramie, the Grand Tetons and thence to Yellowstone National Park. Our trailer and car were loaded down with provisions.

We were careful to pack food only in the trunk of the car because we had heard that bears in Yellowstone would rip our camping trailer apart if they were to smell a trace of it there.

Our original plan was scrapped when we heard that Colorado was flooding. We pressed westward through Albuquerque to Gallup and then north to Cortez, Colorado. We had planned to camp for the night in Mesa Verde National Park and then drive on to a camping place near Salt Lake City.

Our plans called for going on into Salt Lake the third day, taking up residence in a motel for a couple of days and seeing the sights of that city of renowned beauty.

On the fifth day we were to have camped in the Grand Tetons and then to have pushed on to Yellowstone on Saturday.

Even as we left home Jamie had been having a little trouble with his ear. With some misgivings we set out anyway thinking the trouble would right itself within 24 hours.

At Cortez it became obvious that it would not. He spent a miserable night in camp and we placed him in Southwest Memorial Hospital in Cortez the following day.

There he stayed for two days until Dr. V.E. Gardner pronounced him well enough to travel and we all returned home. Jamie, we are glad to report, appears well on the way to recovery at this time.

We met so many good people at Cortez that we will always remember that place warmly in spite of the trouble we had there.

Southwest Memorial Hospital was constructed by the Cortez Lions Club in honor of the community's World War II dead. The names of the town's heroes appear on a bronze plaque on a waiting room wall.

We are going to try the jaunt again someday and you can bet that Cortez, Colorado will be on our route.

Our national parks are a credit to the people who administer them. At Mesa Verde we found neat campsites and plenty of water.

Good roads wind over mile-high scenic mountains. It's a thrill to stand on a craggy overlook and see green valleys below with lumber mill smoke rising lazily in the distance in a tableau framed by shimmering snow-capped mountains.

It brings a thrill to see the American flag waving gently in a mountain breeze against such a background. Courteous, smartly uniformed forest rangers stand guard over this priceless wilderness treasure keeping it safe for us and for posterity.

Western Colorado valleys are green this year, well watered by streams from an abundance of late melting snow.

I hope folks who treat their children to fireworks for the Fourth of July will supervise them carefully.

Last year there were 24 cases of blindness and eye damage caused in the US by fireworks, according to a report by the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Small boys were the most frequent victims. Seven of the 24 persons hurt were boys between 10 and 12 years of age. Five victims were girls, one of them a 4-year-old whose right eye was seriously injured by a firecracker thrown by her father.

Jack Fischer, once an editor on The Amarillo Globe-News and now an executive with Harper's has this to say about editors in general.

"Happy is he who is born cruel, for if not he will have to school himself in cruelty. Without it, he is unfit for his job because his columns filled with junk."

The 20th anniversary of the United Nations was observed recently in San Francisco.

There was little reason for wishing the UN a happy birthday. A more fitting salutation on that anniversary would have been "rest in peace."

My job will be selling for the Prairie, West Texas State University paper. The Canyon News has taken over the responsibility of selling the adver-

Last week the Canyon Lions Club thanked me for "helping" them in their various projects.

As I've said before, the thanks really goes to the Lions Club members. Without your co-operation the work of a newspaper reporter would be miserable.

I can only say thanks to the Lions, and to those of you who have made my job as a reporter so much fun.

This is my final week on the news side of the paper. Going to store away my "press" hat, my trusty camera, and my "news nose", and put on the garb of the advertising world—whatever that may be.

I'll still be running around town, but you just won't hear so much about it on the editorial page. Instead, just watch the ads...there will I be.

When I first came to Canyon as a parttime girl working on a summer job, you folks took me in and made me one of you. Then the next year when I returned to take my spot in the business world, again you opened the doors to your homes and hearts and invited me in.

You've been patient with my many mistakes: name misspelling, wrong dates, and some misplacements of names under pictures. And you have continued to joke and kid me through my first two years as a reporter.

Those two years are probably the hardest ever faced by a news hound. In that span of time, a reporter has an opportunity to cover every type of story and do with it what he can.

I have been fortunate, because you have been understanding teachers.

I thought when I graduated from college that most of my schooling was ended. Little did I know that it had just begun. Education includes more than textbooks. As the saying goes, experience is the key.

And thanks to you I have completed my freshman and sophomore years of graduate study. All I have to do is successfully complete the next 50 years of schooling, and all will be easy.

When a news reporter ends a story he types across the bottom "30". This means The End, Final, or whatever.

Merchants Hear DA

Randall County Criminal District Attorney last Thursday spoke to Canyon retail merchants on current hot check and small claims court laws.

Dowlen spoke at a meeting of merchants held at the American Legion Hall. The meeting is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants' Committee headed by Benny Cooper.

He explained that suits may be filed in justice court on delinquent open accounts up to $150. He also told merchants of information necessary for filling hot check cases.

Lynda Allen Posse Queen

Miss Lynda Allen, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Allen, is the center of attraction this year in area parades.

Miss Allen, a senior at Canyon High School, is queen of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse, and heads the riding club during public appearances.

A member of the posse since its organization in 1960, Lynda has contributed much to the growth of the club.

She was a member of the baton relay team that represented District 2 at the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs national contest last year.

She was also high point girl in District 2 in 1963 representing the Randall County club.

As queen of the local club, Miss Allen wears a gold suit, white hat, beige boots and white gloves, and rides her horse Bar Jacket.

Active also in school activities, Miss Allen has been a member of the Thespians Club, Future Homemakers of America, and will be in the high school mixed choir next year.

She is also a merithonor roll student, and is a pianist.

She will serve as queen of the Sheriff's Posse through this year.

Camping Activities On At Hidden Falls

Camping activities are mid-way through the second week at Hidden Falls Ranch Camp, located some 34 miles southeast of Canyon on the rim of the Palo Duro.

"Our attendance is down somewhat this week, due to the rains we've had recently," noted John Staat, director of the camp. "Things are fine out here, but the roads to and from the camp are rather muddy."

Camp sessions continue through August 21, with weekly sessions planned by the staff of 30. Most of the staff are students at West Texas State University who are receiving training for future leadership. "We feel that America's greatest national asset is youth," Staat commented. Jerry Richardson, former Canyon High and Buffalo footballer, and now a starting defensive back with the Los Angeles Rams, is one of the staff members.

Cost for one week at the non-denominational camp is $50, and covers horseback riding daily, riflery instruction and ammunition, swimming fees, field trips, and $5 credit at the "trading post" for candy, soda pop and crafts expenses.

Campers are also divided into small Bible Exploration groups, with time set aside each day for planned Bible Study.

Each week's activities include a rodeo each Thursday, campouts and cookouts, discussion groups, and a wrangler breakfast each Saturday.

Boys and girls ages 8-12 will attend camp through August 7, with two teenage sessions sponsored August 8-14 and August 15-21.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Staat at OL5-2041 or by writing Box 803, Canyon.

Facilities at the camp include a dining hall for 250 persons, boys' and girls' cabin units, infirmary with a nurse on duty, and general store and administration building.

A personalized program is offered, with some four campers for each staff member. For extra-curricular hikes and games, three campers are assigned to each staff member.

The Ranch also sponsors a daily radio program on KCAN from 11:30-11:45 a.m., and a Bible Correspondence school.

Miss Rebecca Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright, was first place winner in an Independence Day essay contest sponsored by Canyon merchants.

Rebecca, who is 15 years old and lives at 2412 Fifth Avenue, received a $10 prize.

Kathy Hufnagle, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.L. Hufnagle, was second place winner and received $5.

Essays of the two winners appear below.

What Independence Day Means to Me

Independence Day was an occasion on which a person had to decide as an individual whether to pledge his support to a movement that might involve the threat of war and the loss of security to obtain a new way of life that emphasized equality and the individual worth of man, or to "not become involved" by remaining loyal to a government that was mainly concerned with the amount of his material output they might use to their advantage. It is the spirit with which he chose the new and different that we celebrate on Independence Day.

Rebecca Wright

Another Independence Day passes without incidence. Or does it?

July 4th has been the most expensive purchase ever made by free Americans. True, the price has been increasingly high. It will always demand the lives of international patriots of freedom.

But who are we, the living, to evaluate our Independence? This price has been gravely set and triumphantly paid by men who thought freedom by giving excelled tyranny by merely accepting.

On this anniversary of American liberty remember and thank those who have given their lives so that you may again, for the 189th time, celebrate America's Birth of Freedom.

Kathy Hufnagle

Shifts are being made by the second year girls including Caroline Bunn, Terry West, Debbie Black, Janet Stork, Marie Stork, Jenna Thompson and Patricia Tilger.

Barbara Anderson and Annette Robinson have been helping with the first and second year girls.

Sharon Allen and Annette Robinson met in workshop with Mrs. David Pulley, home demonstration agent, to work on wool and silk garments. The girls are fourth and fifth year students of 4-H.

Cloverette 4-H Hears HD Agent

Mrs. David Pulley, county home demonstration agent, met with the Cloverettes 4-H subject group on June 21.

The meeting was held in the home of the junior leader, Jan Williams. She discussed requirements for the 1965 4-H dress revue.

Darleen Crow and her mother, Mrs. Carl G. Crow, brought a pattern for a reversible wrap-around skirt which Darleen is making for the revue.

The group will meet on Friday, July 2, at 2 p.m. in the Farm Bureau Building to work on records.

Rainbows Back Today

Canyon Rainbow Girls returned from their state assembly held this week in Dallas early this morning, Thursday.

The group was scheduled to leave Dallas following the close of the final session Wednesday evening, and arrive in Canyon sometime this morning.

Some 38 girls of the Canyon assembly attended the meeting, along with Mrs. Cortez Dowlen, grand visitor, and Miss Elaine Loudder, grand representative from Massachusetts to Texas, and assembly members and advisors.

The group left Canyon last Saturday evening, and arrived in Dallas Sunday morning. Meetings during the week were held in Adolphus Hotel.

Regular meetings of the group began Monday evening following a day at Six Flags Over Texas. Some 5,000 girls from throughout the state attended the meeting.

Groundbreaking Services Sunday

Groundbreaking services for the Calvary Baptist Church will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 12:15 o'clock at the corner of Eighth Avenue and 8th Street.

Rev. Jack Boyett, pastor, said construction on the building will begin immediately, and completion date is October 1 of this year.

Rev. Boyett and Rev. Angus Burnett of the Amarillo Baptist Association will direct the services Sunday.

Bonds for the church will be sold to the public July 11 through August 1.

"The church membership voted several weeks ago to make $100,000 in bonds available to the public," Boyett explained. "These bonds will bear six percent interest."

A. B. Culbertson Trust Company of Fort Worth will serve as trustee for the bonds, and the First National Bank of Canyon is the paying and receiving agent.

"Persons wishing to purchase bonds may contact me at the church office," Boyett said.

The church site is being dedicated on the 13th anniversary of the organization of the church. Calvary Baptist Church was begun July 6, 1952 as a mission of the First Baptist Church of Canyon.

The new building will include some 11,765 square feet.

"We are building the first unit to accommodate 400 persons," the pastor noted.

Boyett, who has been in Canyon 2 1/2 years, said the educational space will be large enough for 400 persons, and the auditorium will seat 465 persons.

Included in the first unit will be the auditorium, which will face east on the church property, which includes a city block. A nursery suite will be located in the western section of the structure and will include a reception room and rooms for

A place to store equipment for a 500-bed emergency hospital in Canyon was discussed again by commissioners court Monday but no action was taken.

The facility presently is stored at West Texas State University. It is furnished through the civil defense program and supervised by the State Department of Health.

State Department of Health officials have suggested that Randall County and the city of Canyon construct a building in which to store the equipment.

Commissioners heard a protest on proposed vacating of a county road in 2.

County Commissioner Clarence Beckman issued a plea that motorists obey road signs, especially those marking a road closed.

He said such a barricade was torn down on a road west of the Farmer Brown place recently and a motorist crossed washed out portion of road there at great peril to the occupants of the car.

The court also accepted a plat on Lot 60, Block 16 at Lake Stockton.

Because of the Fourth of July holiday, no meeting of the court will be held next week.

provided by the State Park Service. Included in the packages was candy and other food donated by Taylor and Sons supermarket of Canyon.
Now the 31 families had been told a newspaper reporter was arriving, and they flocked about noisily. Stories came tumbling out from the children of continued hikes and explorations by those not already tired. A group of boys shouted and waved from the top of a nearby hill, then began to scramble down. Adults had spent time somewhat more quietly, sleeping, reading or sitting and getting acquainted.
Spirits had remained high since heavy rains Thursday night flooded water crossings, blocking the way out of the canyon floor. There was no worry over danger of discomfort, and a picnic atmosphere prevailed.

Asked if they were anxious to leave, several teenagers agreed to a Vermont girl who said regretfully, "I'm having a great time, and I want to stay, but my parents are going to get out as soon as they can."

Greatest concern among the adults was for friends and relatives at home who might worry, and they were greatly relieved by news that rangers had been placing long distance calls all over the nation reassuring anxious families. Several persons wrote letters for the helicopter pilot to mail. Nineteen out-of-state families represented 15 states and Quebec and British Columbia, Canada.

Some campers were a little damp Thursday night, said a Houston man, but since then everything had been fine. One boy developed an ear infection, and a doctor, also stranded, prescribed medicine which was brought with the other supplies. The state park's floor ranger had reason also to be grateful for the presence of a doctor; his wife is expecting a baby soon.

While most were on long vacations with some time to spare, a Quebec visitor and his family had been traveling to California but will be forced now to return home. Like others he found it difficult to remember what day it was and how long they had been there, but he did know his trip would be postponed until next summer.

Forty-five cars were on the canyon floor when the rains started, but some left in time. A few entered early Friday morning. All stranded campers were together except one car, caught between water crossings three and four.

Each time the helicopter came into sight occupants of the single car-trailer looked up and waved as it passed overhead.

Meanwhile county graders were helping by trying to remove some of the heavy banks of sand and silt deposited at the crossings by the rolling, rushing water.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Read were in Lubbock during the week end to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Read.

ing water.
"Even if the water gets down fairly low," explained gate ranger C. E. Box, "the water's still too swift and there's too much sand to get anyone through."

In spite of a .2-inch rain Friday night the six and a half feet of water dropped four feet by early Saturday. It rose another foot Saturday afternoon, however, and more water was expected as the Lake Stockton spillway overflowed above the canyon area.

"It was really something to see Friday," said Ray Keith, ranger in charge of maintenance. "Logs that looked like whole trees came crashing down the creek, with the force of the water shooting them up and over obstacles as easy as could be."

"The worst part of something like this is when the facts get all garbled and people get scared," he continued. "Everyone (stranded) down there is fine, though. The only trouble is to make sure people outside know what's true. One fellow came rushing up and asked 'Where's the car?' He'd heard a car went off the canyon rim and was swept away." Two cars were reported washed away at other points in Randall County, but no such incident occurred in the park.

Park rangers had other concerns Saturday as the gate telephone was off and on, beginning at 10:30 p.m. Friday. The intrapark phone used to communicate with the ranger on the canyon floor was working well however, reported Ranger Box.

At 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon the helicopter returned with more supplies. By now the contented tourists were requesting luxuries rather than necessities. With rising waters reported, news was brought that there was no longer hope of getting them out that afternoon.

"I told them we couldn't get them out for a couple of more days at least," said Park Superintendent E. J. Boehm, "and they seemed satisfied." He shook his head doubtfully. "I just hope the extra time doesn't dampen their high spirits."

Help came again Saturday evening when the Civil Air Patrol, aided by Reese Air Force Base, arranged to carry in more food supplied by the Park Service. A Saturday night meeting of the Civil Air Patrol and Red Cross produced an agreement for the Red Cross to furnish food, taking it to Palo Duro Canyon. Civil Air Patrol would then contact Reese and arrange additional helicopter flights.

Visitors continued to enter the park Saturday to picnic and camp in the free area above the first water crossing. Camp Number One, on the banks of the crossing, was filled with cars Friday night; eight remained Saturday morning.

One of the couples staying was Mr. and Mrs. M.S. Williams of Texarkana, who were on their way to Laramie, Wyoming, with two other families. They became separated by the floods, and the other couples were among those at the far camp grounds.

"Knowing them, they must be having a ball," commented Mrs. Williams. "I just wish we were with them."

Other guests at the outer camp were not as enthusiastic. Mrs. Joseph O'Brien of Philadelphia, there with her husband and their sons Danny and David, said Saturday that she had "never spent a night like last night!" They had planned to stop for awhile but decided to resume their trip Saturday.

A Wisconsin couple traveling with their two small children must have shared the O'Briens' feelings Friday night.

"I checked on them about 7:30 Friday night," said Ranger Keith, "and they were perfectly happy. But about nine the wind started blowing and those trees began to rattle, and she wanted out of there fast. So they tried to leave and got stuck. I had to go down and pull them out."

With these exceptions, however, most of the worrying was left up to park and highway safety officials. Ranger Box asked one incoming motorist whether he'd planned to go to the campgrounds or somewhere else. "This place, or that one, who cares?" he shrugged impatiently. "I just want to have a picnic!"

Airlifts continued Sunday while the two ministers at the stranded camp held church services. A 3.5-inch rain and hail Sunday night failed to raise the water level again, and park and highway officials were able to bring the tourists out Monday.

Tuesday Superintendent Boehm reported the water level was still about the same and going down very slowly. With machines working at the crossings, he hoped to have the whole park free for campers in one or two more days.

Visitors continued to arrive at the park, and more than 50 cars were in Camp Number One Sunday night, with 40 there Monday night.

Heavy rains brought trouble other places as well. Lights were off over 75-80 per cent of West Texas University Friday following heavy rains the night before.

Water seepage caused a fault in cables feeding power to the campus. Loss of power occurred during the night, according to Marvin Fite, director of inventory. Lights were on again by 11 a.m. Friday.

Rainfall totalling 5.76 inches was reported through Sunday night by Dr. M. B. Measamer, professor of geography. Of that, 4.82 fell Thursday. Total moisture for June stands now at 12.12 inches, according to Dr. Measamer.

Rain forced cancellation of four night performances of "Thundering Sounds of the West."

At Buffalo Lake water lacked four feet being over the spillway, while at Lake Stockton it was reported three feet over the spillway at one time.

Baptist Church camp was called off due to high water. At Ceta Glen Christian Camp water was four feet below the swinging bridge but had fallen enough by 1 p.m. Saturday for parents to take their children home, reported Mrs. Bob Gatten.

Ima Jean Lasley, Christian Camp counselor from Dalhart, was arriving late Thursday night from school at Texas Christian University when her car began to be swept downstream. She jumped and landed on one of the old cars at the side of the road. Her 1965 automobile could not be found by police planes searching the area.

George Ray Sherrod of Amarillo went to sleep with his car in "park" near Buffalo Lake spillway and woke up to find his car floating as high waters rolled in about 10:30 p.m. Friday.

day. Swimming back to safety, Sherrod summoned Glenn Dorris, who towed the car back to dry land.

W. E. Miller, rural mail carrier, reported six roads blocked by water Saturday. One was still blocked Tuesday, but Miller expected all to be passable by Wednesday.

Boy Scout Troop 66, under Lee Roy Moreland, was the only group from Randall District among the 150 scouts at Camp Don Harrington Thursday night. Ray Moore, camp ranger, reported 2.5 inches of rain, no hail and little wind. "There was no trouble whatsoever," he said, and there was no need for the scouts to move out. The creek showed a six or eight foot rise.

Spray will also be continued on a regular basis, said Bryant. Reason for combining the two methods of prevention is that dusting is more effective in the daytime, while spraying has proven more effective at night.

"Those attending the show will not be trapped if the creek rises," said Mrs. Eckhardt. "The theatre is well above the first water crossing."

Mrs. Eckhardt explained that emergency cancellations of the show will be broadcast on radio and television stations at 6 p.m. or near showtime.

He lived with his wife at 1004

C. E. STEEN

Third Avenue at the time of his death.

Born in Hamilton County, Mr. Steen married Beulah Burgett in Floydada July 22, 1922. The couple moved to Randall County 35 years ago from Floyd County.

A member of the Calvary Baptist Church, Mr. Steen was a tractor mechanic.

Survivors include his wife, Beulah of Canyon; four sons, Morris Steen of Canyon, Louis Steen of Odessa, Buster Steen of Plainview and Billy Steen of Pearsall; five daughters, Mrs. Marie Carney of Amarillo, Mrs. Joe Carthel and Mrs. Charolett Carthel, both of Lockney, Mrs. Monita Benham of Canyon, and Mrs. Martha Myers of Amarillo; his mother, Mrs. I.M. Steen of Canyon; three brothers, Bob Steen of Garden Grove, California, Victor Steen and Lewis Steen, both of Amarillo; five sisters, Mrs. O.W. Harris of San Diego, California, Mrs. Ila Mae Jones of Stockton, California, Mrs. Edith Campbell of Resida, California, Mrs. Iris McMahon of Post, and Mrs. Eunice Johnson of Plainview; 18 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Probation In Grave Damaging

Two Amarillo youngsters, one 16 years old and the other 15, were given juvenile probation in county court Friday of last week after they admitted overturning some 82 headstones in Ilano Cemetery.

Judge Lloyd King made the probation stipulation contingent upon the boys posting $500 bond each to help pay for damage done at the cemetery.

Father of the 15-year-old posted bond immediately. The lad was released to the custody of a friend of the family, an Amarillo woman who told the court she has known the boy since he was an infant.

Parents of the boy have been divorced since the boy was a year old. He said he remembered having seen his father only twice before meeting him at Randall County court house last week.

The other boy remained in Randall County jail this week in lieu of bond. His parents also are divorced. The mother sat by her son during the hearing. The father did not make an appearance.

Judge King said that if the bond is not posted the boy would be sent to Gatesville.

The boys admitted destruction at the cemetery on two consecutive nights. Both boys said they had been drinking beer the second night.

The 16-year-old said he also had been drinking before he went to the cemetery the first night. He said a "friend" gave him some beer the first night but refused to identify the friend.

He said he and his companions were given nine quarts of beer before they went to the cemetery the second night. It was the second night that most of the damage was done.

Court records reflect that the two juveniles were accompanied by a 17-year-old Amarillo youth who subsequently was charged with the misdemeanor offense of grave desecration.

Ronald Craig Collins was sentenced to six months in county jail after he entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

Class Of '45 Plans Reunion

He will visit homes of relatives, and residences of his grandmother and grandfather, which face each other at the entrance to the Alhambra. The homes were constructed during the fifteenth century, according to Mrs. Caballero.

From there, he will go on to the province of Andalucia, visiting Seville, Cadiz, Toledo, Malaga, and Lorca. In the province of Salamanca, Caballero will visit farms where Murra bulls are raised, and Prado museum.

League Play Offers Four Age Brackets

Four Leagues are organized for Canyon boys during the summer including the Pee Wee League, Little League, Babe Ruth League and American Legion Team.

Divided into broad age groups, the program provides Canyon youngsters with athletic competition and at the same time teaches him values of athletic skills and competitive sportsmanship.

Babe Ruth League baseball is set up for boys ranging from 12-15 years, with Little League teams including 10-12 year olds. Pee Wee League is designed for 8-9 year olds and the American Legion ball team is for boys 16-18.

A youngster beginning in the Pee Wee League at the age of 8 can continue through Little League, Babe Ruth League and on into the American Legion ball team.

Canyon's Babe Ruth League is set up with seven teams including teams from Happy, Umbarger and Amarillo.

Little League is divided into majors and minors with the "rookies" participating in the minor league and more experienced players active in the majors.

The smallest teams are adequately named Pee Wee League for the 8-9 year old starters.

American Legion baseball is the top level group and plays in the eighteenth district.

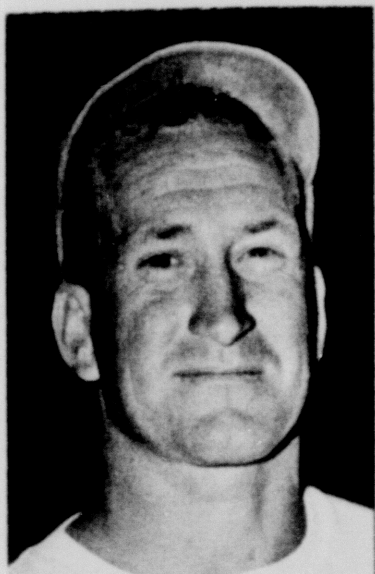

Field and equipment sizes and rules are scaled to fit each group and are appropriately scaled down for the three younger groups.

Time limits, number of innings in each game, safety equipment and other rules and regulations are set up to fit the strength and size of each group.

Babe Ruth Has Seven Teams

Girls softball was included in the summer ball program this year, and young ladies, ages 12 to 14, made up four teams.

Kiwanis Club sponsored the teams, and girls played games three nights a week on the men's softball diamond.

Ruthie is receiving some sideline instructions from Bonnie Jo Whittington, coach of Elton Cox's team. Leta is a member of George Blackwell's team.

H.R. King, coach of the Orioles, says that the summer baseball program is "a wonderful way to fill up the boys time, keeping them off of the streets and participating in something worthwhile."

Babe Ruth League was established in 1957 and has continued to grow through hard work, dedication of league leaders, and enthusiasm of the boys.

First league organized had four teams with Dr. C. C. Callarman as first league president. It presently consists of seven teams including boys from Happy, Umbarger, Amarillo and Canyon.

Presidents of the Canyon Babe Ruth League following Dr. Callarman have been Tom Langston, Col. Edward Lindsey and Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr. who has served since 1959.

Among those helping to establish the team were Frank Begett, Chet Reynolds, Jim Boyd, George Ritter, Borden Price, Bob Bellah, Bill Sternenberg, Don Olson, Joe Abbott and Earl Crump.

Many others have also contributed time and effort to the success of the league.

Dr. Moore, current league president, is assisted by Jack Downing, player agent; Francis Shell, treasurer; George deSchweinitz, secretary; and Eddie Holcomb, advisor.

Rules Govern League Play

Babe Ruth League is governed by strict laws and rules set up by the National Babe Ruth Organization in Trenton, New Jersey.

The organization is divided into states and then districts with special overseas leagues set up for the benefit of the American armed forces abroad.

Each year a world championship team is found through elimination competition.

This year, the Babe Ruth "World Series" will be held in Anderson, Indiana in August.

Canyon Jaycees Coax 4-3 Win With Donkeys

In a 4-3 tilt the Canyon Junior Chamber of Commerce outdid Happy's Jaycee ballclub in Saturday night's donkey ball game.

Staged at the Sheriff's Posse Arena, approximately 150 persons were in attendance for the action softball game.

Jaycees were in action riding, chasing, pulling and coaxing the donkeys to round the bases after hitting the overstuffed ball with either a bat or a shovel.

The five inning game saw a homerun by Jerry Swaringen of the Canyon Jaycees. Jackie Whitley rounded the bases twice to score for Canyon, with another Canyon score tallied by Allen Parson.

Happy Jaycees scored three runs in the game.

Sponsored by the Canyon Jaycees, Meade Michael, president, reports no profits from the event. Jaycee-Ettes held a concession stand under the direction of Mrs. Gerry King COACHING for the Amarillo Fannin Babe Ruth League team are Bob Hensen, John McLeod and Earl Brady. The men are from Amarillo and spend many hours with the baseball team.

Volunteer Umpires' Job Difficult

"He's out!"

"You're blind as a bat."

"He was safe by a mile."

These are common reactions in a big league stadium where fans are rooting for their favorite professional baseball team.

Little League umpires, however, spend time and effort on a strictly voluntary basis, calling the games for the little ballers.

Umpires are not men with big league experience, nor are they paid for their work. While they are sometimes not fully familiar with the Little League rules, they are trying to do their level best to be fair and call a fair game.

When a controversy over a called decision develops, the Little League managers have an agreement with the volunteer umpires whereby they gather for a caucus in the center of the field, away from the distractions of the stands, and come to an agreement over the controversy.

After the agreement, the game is resumed.

"Sometimes we have trouble finding anyone willing to take over the responsibility of calling the games," says Richmond Hales, president.

"After all they are working on a voluntary basis and using their own personal time but they get a lot of jibing from the parents and spectators who fill the stands at Little League game time," Hales continued.

"Parents often tend to get emotionally involved in the games and tend to over-emphasize the competition instead of the sportsmanship and game skills," says the league president.

Hales cautions parents to refrain from getting involved emotionally in the games and especially in the umpire's decisions during the games. He says that many other Little League communities have had to resort to paying their umpires and coaches because volunteers are not willing to put up with the bad feeling brought on by overwrought spectators.

Guy Harp of Albuquerque, N. M. is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Knighton and other friends.

Spunky Little League teams do their baseball playing on fields two-thirds big league size.

Regulation big league field dimensions are cut to fit the stamina and height of the Little League teams.

Distance between bases is 60 feet instead of 90. The pitcher's mound is located 46 feet from home plate. Big leagues have a 60-foot 6-inch measure between the pitcher's mound and home plate.

Pee Wee fields are even smaller, with base runs measuring 50 feet and the pitcher's mound home base distance 40 feet.

Four fields are being used in Canyon by the Babe Ruth, Little and Pee Wee Leagues. All are located in the east end of Canyon near Canyon city park.

Babe Ruth League uses the south field while Little Leaguers use the north field. Pee Wee leaguers play on the fields west of the regular playing fields.

Bleachers for the Babe Ruth field are on the west side of the playing area and are designed to seat up to 100 persons. Small stands are available on the north side of the Little League field, with seats for 50 persons.

Many spectators watch games from their cars which they park around the edges of the fields.

Babe Ruth and Little League fields are both equipped with player dugouts where coaches and players can watch the progress of the games in the shade with protection from occasional showers. Dugouts also have a wire fronting to protect the players from stray balls.

The lighting system for the two fields was purchased by the Leagues from a semi-pro league that closed shop in Turkey. Canyon fathers and businessmen went to Turkey with trucks, tools and winches. They pulled up the 60 foot poles, removed the lighting equipment and hauled them back to Canyon where volunteers erected the equipment. The lights were turned on for the first time in 1956.

Babe Ruth games last seven innings with games beginning at 7:30 unless otherwise scheduled. Little League games begin at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m.

MEMBERS of the Cubs baseball team include Lee Griffin, Ronnie Burnett, Glenn Johnson, Charles Craig, Marvin Griffin, and Allen Beghtel. In the back row are Bynum Morris, Billy Byrd, Mike Riley, Joe Hawkins, Roy Markham, Dave Morris and Paul Moore.

Concessions At Ball Park

A fund raising link for both the Babe Ruth and Little League organizations in Canyon is the volunteer-operated concession stands at the ball park.

The stand is jointly owned by the two leagues and sells popcorn, cookies, cold drinks, sandwiches, candies and snow cones. Profits from the stand go to the two leagues to help defray expenses to keep the leagues in operation.

A concession agreement, suggested by the late Truett Hull during his tenure as Little League president, is presently in use. Mothers of the major league and Babe Ruth League operate the stand while mothers of the minors and Pee Wee leagues bring sandwiches and cookies to the stand on game days.

In charge of the supplies for the concession stand and restrooms, which are nearby, this is Richmond Hales of the Little League. Maintenance is under the leadership of Dudley Moore, Jr. of the Babe Ruth League.

PHILLIES play in Little League Minors. Team members include front, Raby Ratliff, Jim Mayfield, Donald Prichard, Warren Witkowski, James Williams, and Ronald Branum. Jerry Nichols, left rear, is coach, with players including Kerry McDowell, Ross Griffin, Bill Clifford, Randy Woods, Rick Hartline and Bobby Stout. Bill Branum is also coach for the team.

Two Teams To District

Canyon's Babe Ruth League will send two teams to the Babe Ruth District Tournament scheduled for July 12 to be held in Dumas.

State play-off will be held July 26 at Brownfield with the regional meet scheduled later in the summer at Roswell, New Mexico.

The Babe Ruth League draws on the Little League graduates for its players. The Babe Ruth League offers the place for young baseballers to play after they have progressed through the ranks of the 8-9 year old Pee Wee players to the 10-12 year old Little Leagues. Maximum age for Babe Ruth boys is 15 years.

Bernard Hartman, coach and manager of the Umbarger Colts, says summer baseball is a "good game, good for the boys."
"It teaches them discipline, gives them training in sportsmanship and they also learn how to play ball," Hartman says.

"Sometimes ball playing, practice, and activities help them solve a few of their own problems too. They learn how to follow the leadership of others."

Big Boys Play Ump

Officials of the Little League have begun the use of Babe Ruth League players as umpires to call the games for the 8-9 year olds in the Pee Wee division.
A three-fold idea, the use of Babe Ruth players helps to solve the ever present need for umpires to call these games.

It also brings respect from the smaller boys for their 'big brothers' and associating with the older players encourages the Pee Wee players to continue with their baseball program in hopes of eventually becoming a member of the bigger boys league.

Smaller Field Used By Pee Wee Leaguers

Pee Wee Leagues were recently organized as a part of the Little League program in Canyon.

Pee Wee Leagues have playing fields on the west side of the regular Little League fields near city park. The league is designed to provide summer sports for 8-9 year olds.

Little League president Richmond Hales says the use of the fields is through the courtesy of Aubrey Crossland, who let the Little League build two baseball diamonds on part of his pasture for the summer.

As a community service, members of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity at West Texas State University volunteered to build the baseball fields. The fraternity pitched in with materials supplied by the Little League and built two baseball diamonds with backstops, player benches, fences and improved grasses.

The two new fields are maintained by the Little League during the summer baseball program then returned to winter pasture after the season is closed.

Built especially for the small "Pee-Wees" the two fields are smaller than the regulation Little League field. The plates are some 50 feet apart instead of 60 and the distance from the pitcher's mound to home plate is 40 feet instead of the 46 feet used in regular Little League play.

Rules for play in the Pee Wee League are also different. Five runs by a Pee Wee team closes their half of the inning. This is done to preclude long, drawn out innings, assuring each player of a chance at bat and to play their field positions.

COACH for the Astros in Little League majors is Carroll Vaughan. Players include front, from left, Roger Burton, Sammy Kerbel, Mark Read, Ronald Prichard, Jay White, and Mark Vaughan, and back, Larry Prichard, Mike Cox, John Lewis, Jay Bryan, Greg Lambert, and Randall Burton. Not shown is Frank Mayfield.

Tourney winner will enter a later contest at Amarillo Air Force Base against district champions from Districts One, Two, Three and Four.

"I like to coach because I'm interested in the kids," says Dr. Burl Brim, coach of the 9-year-old Mets Little League team.

"I may not be the best of coaches but I hope my interest in the game will help some of the youngsters."

Leagues To Serve 250 Youngsters

Approximately 250 "Bubble-gum" ballplayers are taking part in the Canyon Little League this year according to league president, Richmond Hales.

The league is an annual project of a group of fathers and local businessmen. Through their efforts and sponsorship, Canyon boys ages 8-12 are offered the advantages of a nine week program of organized baseball.

Boys from Canyon, UMBarger, Happy and Amarillo are registered on the teams this season.

In the Babe Ruth League teams include Cards, White Sox, Pirates, Giants, Umbarger, Happy, and Fannin of Amarillo.

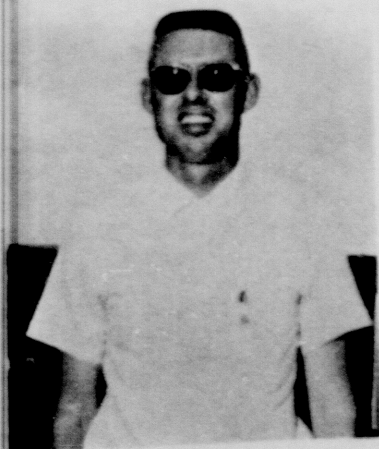

Little League teams are divided into major and minors. Teams in the major division are Yankees, Braves, Astros, Redlegs and Dodgers.

Competing in the Little League minors are the teams of Giants, Tigers, Phillies, and Cubs.

The Pee Wee League is composed of 8-9 year olds. Playing in the 9 year old division are the teams of Mets, Astros, Angels, and Indians. Competing in the 8 year old division are the Red Sox, Orioles and Senators teams.

Player agent for the Little League this year is Roy Forehand. The job is an elective position. As player agent, Forehand is the man who conducts the annual auction of players for various teams.

Forehand also assists the president of the Little League in checking eligibility of players. He coordinates the players transfer to or from the minor leagues. In addition, he serves as a member of the Little League board of directors.

Little League Began In 1956

Canyon's Little League history began in 1956 with a mounting concern by Canyon fathers and businessmen for their boys.

"We just wanted a ball program for our youngsters," says Bud Parker.

"We began the program as a Little League organization under the national level," Parker stated. Parker was first president of the Little League.

"We bought regular baseball uniforms for the first teams, raised our own funds and used the same playing fields that are being used now," he recalls.

Among the first men to help with organizing the program were Parker, the late T.G. Hull, A.W. Lair, Clark Jarnagin, Nig Callahan, Hugh Greiner and Dr. W.J. Wooten.

Richmond Hales is current Little League president. Other officers of the league include Chuck Allen, vice president; Russell Altmiller, secretary-treasurer; Roy Forehand, player agent; Jozach Byrd, concession manager; and Scott Downing, grounds manager.

"I still correspond with Little League boys all over the world who played on my first team 22 years ago," Dr. Callarman says. He retired his services with the League last year.

Before coming to Canyon to join in forming the first league, he was coach of a team in Oregon.

"My best team was the one I coached in the summer of 1943. They went undefeated and weren't scored on. We had a four-county tournament each year with all-city league team winners playing."

Dr. Callarman has five sons, who were active in the league programs during their youth.

4 More Games For Babe Ruth

Babe Ruth League schedule remaining to be played includes four games according to league president, Dr. Dudley Moore.

Today, July 1, the Fannin Panthers will meet the Giants at 7:30 p.m. Also playing at 7:30 this evening will be Umbarger vs the White Sox to be played on the field at Umbarger.

Friday's game will be Happy vs the Cards at 7:30 p.m. Pirates will meet Fannin at 3:30 Saturday afternoon concluding the regular season.

"Sports is a good training ground for citizenship and sportsmanship," says Marion Allen, coach of the Red Sox in the minor league.

"It gives the boys a responsibility and an opportunity to learn leadership as well as skills of the game itself."
